KEVIN McGUFF

HEAD COACH | 13TH SEASON at OSU | 24TH OVERALL

Kevin McGuff was named head coach of The Ohio State University women's basketball program on April 16, 2013, becoming the eighth coach in program history. McGuff's 21-year head coaching career consists of nine years at Xavier University (214-73) and two years at the University of Washington (41-26) before arriving in Columbus. He holds a .693 overall winning percentage with a career mark of 479-212 (updated at the end of the 2024-25 season). Following the conclusion of the 2021-22 season, the NCAA ruled on violations by a past staff member, resulting in the vacation of numerous wins from the 2016-17, 2017-18 and 2018-19 seasons.

In his first season, McGuff led a relatively young and inexperienced group to a 17-18 record against a schedule strength that consistently ranked in the top 3 throughout the year. The Buckeyes started the season with a 70-61 win on the road at West Virginia, a team that went on to earn a No. 2 seed in the NCAA tournament. Overall, Ohio State defeated five of the 64 teams in the NCAA field last season, including a one-point buzzer-beater loss to Gonzaga and a four-point loss at Georgia.

But the highlight of the season came in March when the Buckeyes made an improbable run to the Big Ten tournament semifinals, upsetting No. 1 seed Penn State, 99-82, along the way. Ohio State nearly reached the championship game, falling to Iowa, 77-73, in the semifinals. Sophomore Ameryst Alston, a first team All-Big Ten performer, was named to the all-tournament team after averaging 27.7 points and 4.3 assists and hitting 10 3FGs in the three tournament games. Alston ranked third in the Big Ten with 20.3 ppg in conference play during the season.

Off the court, McGuff and his staff have worked tirelessly on the recruiting trail and in his first class, he landed the No. 2-ranked recruiting class in the country, highlighted by McDonald's All-American Kelsey Mitchell. And they didn't stop there, signing a pair of top 35 transfers in Kianna Holland (Duke) and Shayla Cooper (Georgetown) from the 2013 signing class in January.

McGuff's second year in Columbus started off with a thud as three players suffered season-ending injuries in the first month of practice. But McGuff rallied the team and led the Buckeyes to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in four years. He guided Ohio State to a 24-11 overall record, a runner-up finish in the Big Ten Tournament and an appearance in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The Buckeyes featured the top-scoring backcourt in the country in 2014-15 of Kelsey Mitchell and Ameryst Alston. Mitchell was the first freshman to led the NCAA in scoring at 24.9 ppg and set an OSU and Big Ten single-season record with 873 points. Mitchell also made an NCAA single-season record 127 three-pointers and was named the National Freshman of the Year as well as the Co-Big Ten Player of the Year. Alston averaged a career-best 19.8 ppg and garnered First Team All-Big Ten honors for the second-straight season.

In the post, freshman Alexa Hart developed into one of the best low-post threats in the conference as the 2014-15 progressed. She led the team with 13 double-doubles and blocked an OSU single-season record 129 shots. Hart was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman Team and the Big Ten All-Tournament Team.

The Buckeyes took another step towards national prominence in 2015-16 as they earned a No. 2 seed and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Ohio State was ranked in the top-15 all season and finished second in the Big Ten with a 15-3 mark. OSU swept the season series from Maryland who ended up winning the regular season crown.

McGuff's up tempo style enabled the Buckeyes to score 86.0 ppg in 2015-16 which shattered the school's single-season scoring record. The team also set school records for points, field goals made and three-point field goals made that season. Kelsey Mitchell again was near the national leaders in scoring, finishing third at 26.1 ppg and breaker her own single-season mark. She was a consensus first team All-American and a finalist for every major national award.

McGuff's recruiting class in 2016 was widely regarding as another top-5 class. With the signing of three top-31 players and the addition of three high-level transfers, one service ranked the Buckeyes' class as tops in the country.

The 2016-17 season was yet again, a step in the right direction as the team made it back to the NCAA Sweet 16, marking the first back-to-back trips since 1988 and 1989. The Buckeyes also claimed their 15th Big Ten Regular Season Championship, finishing with a record of 15-1.

The team broke the scoring mark for the second-straight season in 2016-17, scoring 2,999 points and also made a school-record 1,101 field goals. The 273 three-points and 85.7 scoring average were also the second-best marks in a single-season in school history. Individually, five players recieved All-Big Ten status, including Kelsey Mitchell who not only received first team honors for the third-straight season but she was also named the conference's Player of the Year for the second time in her career. Stephanie Mavunga was the most efficient rebounder in the country and earned second team honors along with Shayla Cooper. Linnae Harper was tabbed the B1G's Sixth Player of the Year and Tori McCoy was named to the All-Freshman Team.

In 2017-18, McGuff and the Buckeyes won both the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles and hosted first and second round NCAA Tournament games for the second time in four seasons. The Buckeyes again were in the top four in the country in scoring at 85.0 ppg and made the most three-point field goals in program history. Mitchell and Mavunga were both first team All-Big Ten honorees and Mitchell became the program's first four-time All-American.

With the departure of Mitchell, the NCAA's No. 2 all-time leading scorer, and almost 94 percent of his offense from the previous season, the 2018-19 season had the possibility of being a challenging one for McGuff and the Buckeyes. He brought in five graduate transfers and three talented freshmen to join just four returning players. Not surprisingly, the 4-8 start to the year was a bit rocky. But the final 15 games of the Big Ten season may have been some of McGuff's best coaching and landing him squarely in the mix for Big Ten Coach of the Year. The Barnstorming Buckeyes went 10-8 and finished fifth in the Big Ten.

The 2018-19 year helped reshape the foundation for the program moving forward. McGuff landed a third top-5 recruiting class for 2019 with four top-41 recruits including McDonald's All-American and three-time Ohio Miss

The 2019-20 season was a roller coaster of ups and downs but that was to be expected with seven new additions to the roster. However, the goal of every season is to be playing your best basketball at the end of the season and McGuff and the Buckeyes certainly were. They were projecting as fix, six or seven seed in the NCAA Tournament before the COVID-19 outbreak but a halt to the sports world.

The Buckeyes won six in-a-row in February and 10 of its final 13 games. That included a run to the Big Ten Tournament Championship game. Overall in 2019-20, the team was 21-12 and finished fifth in the Big Ten at 11-7. The Buckeyes had five wins over ranked teams which is the season-most for McGuff in a season in his entire coaching tenure. Dorka Juhasz was named first team All-Big Ten and Kierstan Bell was named to the All-Freshmen Team.

The shortened 2020-21 season was filled with uncertainty but McGuff and the Buckeyes played well and were ranked ranked all season long, reaching at high as 11th in early February. The team won three consecutive games over Top 15 ranked opponents for the first time in program history and finished the season with a 13-7 overall record. Dorka Juhasz claimed first team All-Big Ten honors for the second-straight season and Jacy Sheldon was named to the second team.

The Buckeyes won a share of the Big Ten regular season championship in 2021-22, finishing the conference schedule with a 14-4 record. Ohio State did not lose to an unranked team during Big Ten play. OSU went on to earn a six-seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the first time since 2017. OSU earned three ranked wins during the 2021-22 season, first beating No. 12/11 Maryland at home before taking care of business at No. 21/24 Iowa. The Buckeyes most convincing ranked win came in the second round of the NCAA Tournament at No. 8/9 LSU by a 79-64 margin. Taylor Mikesell and Jacy Sheldon were both selected to the All-Big Ten First Team, while Sheldon was an honorable mention AP All-American and Mikesell was a finalist for the Ann Meyers-Drysdale Award.

In 2022-23, McGuff led the Buckeyes to the program's first NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 30 years and finished with a 28-8 overall record. The Elite Eight round is the furthest that McGuff has taken any of his teams into the postseason, while 28 wins is the most since he's been in Columbus. Ohio State finished as the runner-up in the Big Ten Tournament as the No. 4 seed after completing the largest comeback in conference tournament history in the semifinals (24-point deficit in the third quarter). The Buckeyes were one of three undefeated teams in the country midway through January, posting the best start in program history at 19-0. OSU earned a program-best nine wins against ranked opponents and recorded the most steals (406) in program history. The Buckeyes' three wins against top-10 opponents is the most since the 1992-93 season. McGuff and his team generated the largest average home attendance (5,955) since the 2005-06 season. Following the conclusion of the regular season, Cotie McMahon was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year and to the All-Freshmen and Second Teams, while Taylor Mikesell was selected to the All-Big Ten First Team and Taylor Thierry joined McMahon on the All-Big Ten Second Team. Mikesell was selected 13th overall and first in the second round of the 2023 WNBA Draft by the Indiana Fever.

McGuff led the Buckeyes to their first outright regular season Big Ten title since 2009-10 during the 2023-24 season, finishing with a 16-2 conference record. OSU strung together 15-consecutive Big Ten wins (undefeated in January and February) for the program's second-longest conference win streak in history, only trailing the 1984-85 season when Ohio State was 18-0 in conference play. McGuff was named Big Ten Coach of the Year by both the league's coaches and media, an honor he earned for the first time in his career. He was also named to the late season watch list for Naismith Coach of the Year and was a semifinalist. Ohio State earned a #2 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2010, playing host for the 14th time in program history and back-to-back seasons. Sheldon was named an All-American by multiple outlets, while McMahon was an honorable mention. A total of five players were named All-Big Ten, highlighted by Celeste Taylor's selection as the Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year by the league's coaches.

Following the 2023-24 season, two Buckeyes were selected in the WNBA Draft for the first time since the 2018 draft and the third time in program history. Jacy Sheldon was selected fifth overall by the Dallas Wings, becoming the sixth player in program history to be drafted in the first round and the first since Kelsey Mitchell in 2018. Celeste Taylor was selected 15th overall by the Indiana Fever.

Ohio State finished third in the Big Ten in 2024-25 in the conference's first season with 18 teams. The Buckeyes wrapped up the season with a 26-7 overall record, including four ranked wins, and a 13-5 mark in Big Ten play. Ohio State went undefeated at home (15-0) during the regular season for the first time since 2011-12. The Buckeyes earned a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament, hosting games in the Schottenstein Center for the third-consecutive season and playing host for the 15th time in program history. McGuff was named to the Naismith Coach of the Year Late Season Watch List for the third-consecutive season. McMahon was named an AP All-American honorable mention for the second season in a row and was joined by Jaloni Cambridge as honorable mentions for the WBCA Coaches' All-America Team.

Four Buckeyes earned All-Big Ten recognition, highlighted by Jaloni Cambridge's Big Ten Freshman of the Year honor.

Prior to his arrival at Ohio State, McGuff, a Saint Joseph's College (Ind.) graduate, went 41-26 in two years at Washington with two berths in the WNIT. In his first season McGuff led the Huskies to a 20-14 finish -- their first 20-win season since 2003 -- and a trip to the quarterfinals of the WNIT. In the WNIT, Washington went on a memorable run, beating Cal Poly, Utah and Oregon State before falling to San Diego in the quarterfinals. It was the first winning season for UW since 2006-07 and the first postseason appearance since 2009-10. In his final season his Huskie squad finished 21-12 with a second round finish in the WNIT.

On the recruiting trail, McGuff landed the program's first two McDonald's All-Americans in Katie Collier in 2012 and Kelsey Plum in 2013.

Prior to his stint in Washington, McGuff was the head coach at Xavier for nine seasons. As the head coach of the Musketeers, McGuff compiled a 214-73 record and set a school record for most wins in program history, reaching the postseason in each season he coached. His five consecutive NCAA tournament appearances was also a school record. During that stretch, McGuff's Xavier teams were consistently the class of the Atlantic-10, sporting a 106-28 record in nine seasons. In his last two seasons, Xavier went undefeated (14-0) in A-10 play.

McGuff led the Musketeers to four A-10 tournament championships, including his final year at Xavier. That season, his team posted a 28-3 record (.903 winning percentage) and reached the second round of the NCAA tournament. McGuff made the NCAA tournament six times overall as the Xavier coach. His pinnacle was an Elite Eight appearance in the 2009-10 season, where his team was one missed layup away from the Final Four.

In Cincinnati, McGuff demonstrated he could bring talented student-athletes to the Queen City from across the nation. From 2005-11, McGuff signed players from 12 states, showing he is capable of recruiting in all areas of the country. The class he signed in 2010 was ranked No. 18 in the country.

McGuff took over the Xavier job after a six-year run as an assistant coach at Notre Dame, inheriting a team that had gone 12-19 the year before. McGuff steered the program to a 20-10 record, one of the most significant turnarounds for a head coach at that time. While with the Fighting Irish, McGuff was an assistant to legendary coach Muffet McGraw. He was a staff member on the Notre Dame team that captured the NCAA Championship in 2001. The Irish reached the Sweet Sixteen four times during his tenure in South Bend and the Final Four twice.

Prior to taking the job as an assistant at Notre Dame, McGuff held a similar position with Miami University (Ohio). During his time in Oxford, McGuff was in charge of scouting efforts, internal and external operations of the program, as well as the director of the team's summer camps.

McGuff is married to wife, Letitia. The couple has six children: Kilyn, Keiryn, Lukas, Lake, Lily and Leks.

OHIO STATE AND THE WNBA

Ohio State has built a solid connection with the WNBA with 18 draft picks since 2001, including six first-round selections since 2007. Three Buckeyes were selected early in the first round in three consecutive seasons from 2011-13 in Jantel Lavender, Samantha Prahalis and Tayler Hill.

Lavender, Ohio State's all-time leading scorer (upon graduation) and rebounder, was chosen fifth overall in the 2011 Draft by the Los Angeles Sparks.

Prahalis, the Big Ten's all-time assists leader, was chosen 6th overall in 2012 by the Phoenix Mercury and went on to earn WNBA All-Rookie Team honors.

Hill was selected fourth overall by Washington in 2013 and helped the Mystics reach the WNBA playoffs that year.

In April 2007, Jessica Davenport was selected No. 2 overall in the WNBA Draft by San Antonio. She was traded to New York, where she helped the Liberty reach the playoffs.

Brandie Hoskins also was drafted in the 2007, going in the third round to Seattle and Marscilla Packer was selected in the 2008 draft by the Phoenix Mercury.

In October 2008 Katie Smith, a two-time All-American at Ohio State from 1993-96, led the Detroit Shock to their third WNBA title in six years and was named Finals MVP – this less than two months after winning her third goal medal at the Beijing Olympics. Smith averaged 20.6 points in the three-game sweep. She played her final WNBA season in 2013 with the New York Liberty and left the game as the all-time leading scorer in the history of women's professional basketball.

Kelsey Mitchell was taken No. 2 overall in the 2018 draft by the Indiana Fever. Her teammate, Stephanie Mavunga was then taken by the Fever with the second pick in the second round. That marked the first time Buckeye teammates were selected by the same team in the same draft.

Taylor Mikesell became the first Buckeye selected in five years when she was taken as the first pick of the second round (13th overall) by the Indiana Fever, joining Mitchell.

In 2024, two Buckeyes were selected in the draft for the third time in program history and first time since 2018. Jacy Sheldon became the sixth Buckeye selected in the first round, going to the Dallas Wings with the No. 5 overall pick. Celeste Taylor was taken 15th overall (third in the second round) by the Indiana Fever.

Taylor Thierry was the 20th player in program history to be drafted, going to the Atlanta Dream with the No. 37 pick in the 2025 draft.

#Bailey coached prior to 1965-66. Ohio State marks the 1965-66 season as the transition between intramural and intercollegiate basketball. ^The first official Big Ten Tournament, which was a double-elimination event, took place during the 1981-82 season. Big Ten Tournaments were abandoned until the 1994-95 season, when the league returned to the current postseason Big Ten Tournament format. The total above does not include Ohio State's 16-3 Big Ten record from 1975-76 to 1981-82; &Official NCAA championships began with the 1981-82 season; %The Big Ten began league play officially with the 1982-83 season;  Season ended prior to the NCAA Tournament due to COVID-19;  Ohio State did not participate in the postseason because of a self-imposed postseason ban; @ Specific games from these seasons vacated by the NCAA.

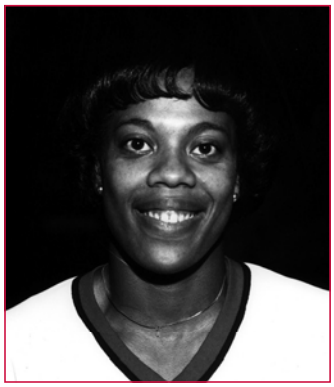
FRANI WASHINGTON 1979
ALL-AMERICAN



When Frani Washington, Ohio State's first All-American, played women's basketball teams were not playing for Big Ten championships and berths in the NCAA tournament. There was a Big Ten tournament in 1979, but the conference did not sponsor a championship in the sport. Instead, the postseason consisted of the Ohio Association of Intercollegiate Sports for Women (OAISW) and the Midwest Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (MAIAW) tournaments.

Washington was the standout of the 1978-79 Ohio State squad that finished with a 19-11 record and advanced to the MAIAW tournament under head coach Mary Wilson. During that season, the Toledo, Ohio, native scored 711 points, an Ohio State single-season record she held until the 1995-96 season. Moreover, Washington's 39-point explosion against Tennessee on Dec. 12, 1978 stood atop the single game records for 16 years. Washington scored 30 or more points in five contests and 20 or more in 21 of the Buckeyes' 30 games, averaging 23.7 points per game.

The statistics show Washington was an all-around player. In addition to her scoring talent, the 5-foot-6 forward led the team in steals (81) and ranked second in assists (98) and rebounds (212) during the 1978-79 season. She was named an All-American in 1979.

TRACEY HALL 1987/88
ALL-AMERICAN

Tracey Hall, Ohio State's second basketball All-American, etched an impressive line of records during the first decade of women's NCAA intercollegiate competition.

The Big Ten's first two-time Kodak All-American (1987, 1988), Hall's impact on the conference was immediate. The talented forward captured Big Ten freshman of the year and second team All-Big Ten laurels in 1985. She went on to claim the conference's top honor, player of the year, in 1986 and '87, while being selected first team All-Big Ten in 1986, '87 and '88.

To gain a true sense of Hall's dominance, however, take a look in OSU's record book, where her impact has been long-lasting. The Cleveland Heights, Ohio, native still ranks sixth on the school's all-time scoring list with 1,912 points in 122 games, second in rebounds (1,115), fourth with 807 field goals made and seventh in blocked shots (109). She also ranks in the top 5 all-time in FG percentage (4th, .600),

During the 1986-87 campaign she recorded a then-single-season mark for field goal percentage, connecting on 62 percent of her attempts. Hall also is the first and only Ohio State player to collect more than 300 rebounds in a season.

On the way to amassing these records, Hall started every game of her collegiate career, scored double figures in 101 games, notched double-digit rebounding efforts in 50 contests and combined scoring and rebounding for 39 double-double performances from 1985-88.

With Hall's talent and leadership, the Buckeyes compiled three consecutive Big Ten championships (1985-87) and a four-year conference record of 67-5. OSU's overall mark during the Hall era was 102-20 (.836), which included four trips to the NCAA tournament and just one step away from the Final Four with berths in the regional finals in 1985 and '87.

In international competition, Hall competed for the ABA/USA Select team in 1986 and the World University Games team in 1987. She was also invited to the U.S. Olympic Team tryouts in 1988.

Hall graduated in 1988 with a degree in communications. She was inducted into the Ohio State Sports Hall of Fame in September 1998 and had her No. 44 retired in 2009 in Value City Arena.

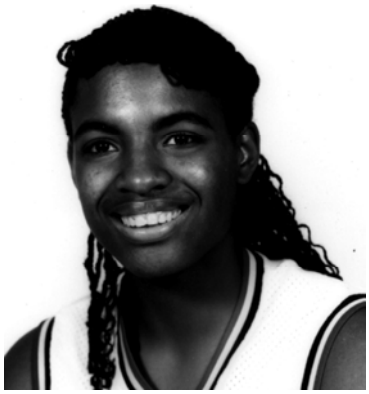
NIKITA LOWRY 1989

ALL-AMERICAN



Ohio State's string of All-Americans continued on the heels of Tracey Hall's graduation in 1988 as Nikita Lowry, a Kodak All-Region selection in 1988, became the Buckeyes' third All-American in 1989.

The 6-foot forward gave a preview of her future success as a sophomore. Although she was not in the starting lineup, Lowry ranked second on the team in scoring (13.6 ppg) and led the squad in free throw accuracy (.767). In fact, Lowry prevailed as the only non-starter among the Big Ten's Top 15 scorers. A native of Detroit, Mich., her efforts did not go unnoticed, as she claimed second team All-Big Ten honors and OSU's sixth player award.

Lowry dominated the Big Ten as a junior. She led the conference in scoring (23.7 ppg), becoming the first OSU player to average more than 20 points in a season since Frani Washington in 1978-79. Lowry also paced the conference in field-goal percentage (.616) and steals (3.1 spg) and co-led in the rebounding column (8.4 rpg). Lowry's "break out" year included a 28-point, 12-rebound performance to help OSU beat then-No. 1 Iowa (58-54) before a sellout crowd of 13,320 in St. John Arena. Additionally, she established career highs for scoring (36 points against Illinois) and rebounding (14, two times at Cal-State Fullerton and Iowa) and capped the campaign with a unanimous first team All-Big Ten pick and OSU's most valuable player award.

An off-season knee injury slowed Lowry's progress at the start of her senior season. The Buckeyes opened the 1988-89 campaign ranked in the polls, but lost three of their first five games. Lowry, however, came back to lead the Big Ten in scoring for the second straight year with an average of nearly 19 points per game. The team ended the season with an overall record of 24-6 and as co-champions in the Big Ten with a 16-2 conference mark. In addition to earning All-America honors, Lowry was a unanimous first team All-Big Ten selection and winner of the Chicago Tribune's Silver Basketball award.

Graduating in 1990 with a bachelor of science degree in economics, she has enjoyed coaching stops at Michigan, Ohio State, Detroit and New Mexico State. Lowry was hired as an assistant at Old Dominion University in the summer of 2002.

In September 2000, Lowry was honored with an induction into the Ohio State Sports Hall of Fame.

KATIE SMITH 1993/96

Touted as the most sought after high school basketball player, it didn't take long for Logan, Ohio, native Katie Smith to become a household name across the country.

Leading the way with an 18.8 scoring average, Smith steered the Ohio State program back into the national limelight as a participant in its first NCAA Final Four in 1993. The Buckeyes lost the final game of the season, 84-82, to Texas Tech, but the history-making march established a tier of success to build upon for seasons to come.

In 1993, postseason honors poured in for Smith, who became the first freshman since USC's Cheryl Miller to earn Kodak All-America laurels. Smith also was named the 1993 Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

Over the next two years, Smith continued to maintain a captive audience. As a sophomore, Smith became one of the youngest collegiate players to score 1,000 career points at the age of 19 years and eight months. In fact, Smith paced OSU's scoring efforts four years running, averaging a career 20.8 points per game that overshadowed her dominance as the squad's assists and steals leader in each of her last two seasons.

In 1996, her finest and final season, Smith tallied an OSU single-season record 745 points on the way to becoming the Big Ten women's career scoring leader with 2,578 points - a mark that stood until 2004. Smith dominated the opposition, with 20 or more points in 22-of-34 games, including three games over the 30-point mark. She also averaged 5.1 rebounds per game and led the team with 145 assists and 46 steals in 1996.

The Buckeyes were 80-44 (.645) over her four-year stay and 124 consecutive starts. Along the way, Smith literally rewrote the Ohio State record book, amassing an amazing 10 career, six single-season and six single-game records.

Among her numerous honors, Smith became only the second player in league history (along with Buckeye Tracey Hall) to receive the prestigious Kodak All-America honor twice in her career. She also was tabbed the 1996 Big Ten Player of the Year, the Chicago Tribune Silver Basketball recipient and a unanimous first team All-Big Ten choice, her third straight honor.

A competitor in the classroom as well, Smith was a four-time OSU Scholar-Athlete, three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection and the recipient of various scholarships, including a distinguished NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

Her resume includes stints on numerous international teams, including the U.S. Olympic Team, a first for any Buckeye. Smith has been part of three gold-medal winning Olympic squads (2000, '04, and '08).

Smith was a member of the two-time champion Columbus Quest of the American Basketball League and recently closed her ninth season in the WNBA, topping 5,000 career points. Smith led the Detroit Shock to their third WNBA championship in six seasons in 2008 and was named MVP of the Finals after averaging 20.6 ppg in the three-game sweep of San Antonio.

Honors continued to pour in for Smith, whose No. 30 jersey was retired in January 2001 in front of 10,000-plus fans. In October 2001, she became the first women's basketball player inducted into the Ohio State Sports Hall of Fame in her first year of eligibility. Smith retired from the WNBA in 2013.

JESSICA DAVENPORT 2005/06/07

ALL-AMERICAN

Ohio State rode the coattails of Jessica Davenport back to the top of the Big Ten Conference and into national prominence. The only three-time Big Ten player of the year, Davenport helped the Buckeyes to a 108-22 record (.831) from 2004-07, the best four-year run in program history. Ohio State's first three-time All-American captained the Buckeyes to three-consecutive conference championships and a 55-10 (.846) record in league games.

Davenport, from Columbus Independence High School, was Ohio State's first three-time All-American and is just the 20th player overall to earn WBCA/Kodak All-America accolades three times in a career. In 2007, she became the first player in Big Ten history to record 2,000 points, 1,000 rebounds and 300 blocked shots in a career. She blocked a career total of 384 shots and ended her Buckeye run as the Big Ten's all-time leader. Her blocks total ranks seventh in NCAA history.

A consumer affairs graduate, Davenport completed her tenure with 48 career double-doubles and Ohio State's only pair of triple-doubles in points, rebounds and blocked shots. Davenport scored double-digits in 83 of her last 84 contests and amassed 2,303 career points, ranking second at the time to Katie Smith's 2,578 from 1993-96. Davenport's point total also rates No. 5 all-time in the Big Ten. She netted 639 points to join Smith as the only Buckeye to pocket 600 points twice in a career. Davenport also pulled down 1,094 rebounds in her four years with the Scarlet and Gray to rank No. 2 at Ohio State behind Tracie Hall (1985-88). Davenport also took over as the Buckeyes' top shooter of all-time, connecting at a 60.4 rate (875-1,448).

A three-time finalist for the Wade Trophy, Davenport capped her career in grand fashion in 2007. She not only garnered her third conference player of the year award and third All-America honor, but etched her name in both the Big Ten and Ohio State record books while leading the Buckeyes to a 28-4 overall mark and fourth NCAA tournament bid in as many seasons. She topped the conference in scoring at 20 points per game and ranked second in the league in rebounds per contest (9.6) and field goal percentage (.597/ 222-372).

Davenport, who won 14 Big Ten player of the week awards for her career, fronted the Buckeyes to their best start in program history in 2006-07, winning 24 of their first 25 games. At the conclusion of the regular season, Ohio State was 26-2, the best regular campaign in Ohio State annals. In the postseason, Davenport fueled Ohio State to the Big Ten tournament championship game with back-to-back 30- and 32-point performances to reach the final. She notched career triple-double No. 2 with 17 points, 10 rebounds and 11 blocked shots at Minn. Feb. 8, while also becoming the Big Ten's career blocked shots leader.

The Buckeyes performed the Big Ten title sweep in Davenport's junior campaign of 2005-06. Ohio State moved through the conference schedule at 15-1 for the Buckeyes' first outright championship since the 1985-86 season. Ohio State won a team-record 20 games in a row and advanced to win the program's first Big Ten Tournament over Purdue. Ohio State posted a 29-3 overall record and climbed as high as No. 2 in the national polls.

Individually, Davenport claimed her second consensus Big Ten Player of the Year award, leading the conference in five statistical categories: points (18.7), rebounds (8.9), field goal percentage (.618/ 241-390), blocks (3.1) and defensive rebounds (6.8). She also was deemed All-American by the WBCA and AP for the second year in a row. Davenport posted her fifth career 30-plus point game at Michigan State with 31 points, 10 rebounds and three blocks and netted a last-second layup to win at Michigan State, 67-65.

Davenport came into her own her sophomore season, winning the first of her three conference player of the year awards and All-American honors. She began to be recognized nationally as a finalist for the Naismith, Wade and Wooden national player of the year awards. Davenport shot at a 58.7 percent clip from the field (No. 1 in Big Ten) in all games and finished at 60.4 percent (No. 1) in league games. She topped the Buckeyes with 19.3 points per game and 9.3 rebounds per outing and was the Big Ten's top shot-blocker with 3.4 per game.

Davenport finished the 2004-05 season with 14 double-doubles and became the only the third sophomore to in Ohio State history to eclipse 1,000 points in her career. Earlier in the year, she was the first player in Buckeye history to record a triple-double: 19 points, 13 rebounds, 12 blocked shots at Michigan State. Her twelve blocks tied the Buckeye single-game record. She played five-consecutive 40-minute games to end regular season and led Ohio State to its first appearance in the NCAA Sweet 16 since 1993.

Just weeks after completing her career as one of the most decorated Buckeyes in program history, Davenport was selected No. 2 overall in the 2007 WNBA Draft by San Antonio. Midway through her press conference, Davenport was informed she had been traded to the New York Liberty. Davenport helped the Liberty reach the 2007 WNBA playoffs. New York dropped the Eastern Conference Finals series to Detroit and former Buckeye standout Katie Smith, 3-2. Davenport's Liberty again reached the conference finals in 2008, only to see their season cut short by Smith and the Shock once again. In 2011, Davenport and the No. 1 seed Indiana Fever reached the Eastern Conference finals.

Davenport also was a staple in the paint for USA Basketball. Davenport competed on three U.S. squads following her collegiate seasons in 2005, '06 and '07. In 2005, she teamed with fellow Buckeye Brandie Hoskins to bring home the gold medal at the World University Games in Izmir, Turkey. In 2006, Davenport linked up with the senior national team and former Buckeye Katie Smith to claim gold at the Australian Opals Tournament. Davenport helped the Americans sweep four games on an Italian tour in 2007.

Davenport also attacked her duties in the classroom. She was a two-time OSU Scholar-Athlete and also an Academic All-Big Ten honoree en route to earning her bachelor's degree in consumer affairs in March 2007.

In the Fall of 2012, Davenport was inducted into the Ohio State Athletics Hall of Fame.

JANTEL LAVENDER 2009/10/11
ALL-AMERICAN

Jantel Lavender made a convincing case as the greatest Buckeye ever and broke several school, Big Ten and NCAA records along the way to becoming Ohio State's second three-time All-American.

Lavender led the Buckeyes to three Big Ten regular season championships, three Big Ten tournament titles and four NCAA tournament appearances, including two trips to the Sweet 16.

As a senior in 2010-11, Lavender made history, becoming the first Big Ten player (men's or women's) in conference history to win player of the year honors all four years and became the only women's basketball player among the Big Ten, ACC, Big East, Big 12, Pac-10 or SEC to accomplish the feat. Lavender also earned WBCA/State Farm and USBWA All-America honors for the third consecutive year and Associated Press first team honors for the second straight season.

A product of Central Catholic High School in Cleveland, Ohio, Lavender left Columbus as Ohio State's all-time leading scorer (2,818 points) and became only the second player in Big Ten history to record at least 2,800 points. Along the way, she became the Big Ten's all-time rebounding leader (1,422), set a Value City Arena record with 22 caroms in one game and set an Ohio State single-season record with 774 points.

Her records didn't stop there. Incredibly, Lavender scored in double-figures in all 136 career games, which is an NCAA record for consecutive games with at least 10 points, and set a school-record 136 consecutive starts.

Lavender led the Big Ten and ranked sixth in the NCAA with 22.8 ppg as a senior and led the Big Ten and ranked 15th in the NCAA with 10.9 rebounds. A great shooting touch from anywhere on the court, Lavender shot 54.8 percent from the field, which was tops in the Big Ten, and had five 30-point games. She finished her senior year on a tear, winning 2011 Big Ten Tournament Most Outstanding Player honors for a record third year while averaging 23.7 points per game, 12.7 rebounds and 4.0 assists and shooting 63.8 percent from the field in the three wins. Furthermore, she set a tournament single-game scoring record with 37 points in the semifinal win over No. 1 seed Michigan State.

In 2009-10, Lavender became the fourth two-time All-American in OSU history and became the fifth WBCA All-America selection at Ohio State in the past six years. Lavender averaged 21.4 points, 10.3 rebounds and shot 51.4 percent from the field as a junior in leading Ohio State to a record 31 wins, a sixth straight Big Ten regular season and second straight tournament title. Lavender, who became the first Buckeye to score 2,000 points in her junior season, won Big Ten player of the year honors for the third year in a row and was one of 12 finalists for the State Farm Wade Trophy. She also was the Big Ten tournament most outstanding player after setting a tournament championship game record with 35 points in the win over Iowa.

In 2008-09, Lavender was the Big Ten player of the year for a second straight season, joining Hall and Davenport as the only two-time Ohio State recipients. She was only the second player in Big Ten history to complete the statistical triple crown, leading the conference in scoring (20.8), rebounding (10.7) and field goal percentage (.541). She scored in double figures in all 35 games with 24 double-doubles and set a Big Ten single-season record with 374 rebounds.

Lavender, who set a Big Ten record with 19 career player of the week honors, was the only Division I player to rank in the Top 20 in scoring, rebounding and FG percentage and was the Big Ten tournament's Most Outstanding Player, averaging 22.7 points and 13.7 rebounds while shooting 64 percent from the field with three double-doubles in the three victories over Illinois, Iowa and Purdue. In the process, she set a single tournament record with 41 rebounds, including 17 in the Iowa game, the second-most in tournament history.

Lavender led the Buckeyes in scoring in 28 of 35 games that season, led the Big Ten with 21 games of 20 or more points and had two games with 30 or more. She was named the Big Ten player of the week five times and became the second-fastest player in the history of Ohio State women's basketball to score 1,000 points.

Lavender earned All-America honors in 2009 after a banner sophomore season that saw the Buckeyes win the Big Ten regular-season and tournament championship with a berth in the NCAA Sweet 16. She repeated in 2010 after helping the Buckeyes to a record sixth-consecutive Big Ten title and a school-record 31 wins.

Upon graduating with her degree in Human Ecology, Lavender was drafted 5th overall in the 2011 WNBA Draft by the Los Angeles Sparks.

92-STRAIGHT WITH A THREE

- Kelsey Mitchell made a three-pointer in each of her final 92 games.
- That set an NCAA record, passing Heather Butler of UT Martin old mark of 80-straight games from 2011-13.

THROWING IT IN FROM DEEP

- Kelsey Mitchell finished her career as the NCAA all-time three-point leader, making 497 threes in her career.
- That passed UConn's Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis' old mark of 398. She passed her during the game against FGCU on Nov. 24, 2017.
- Mitchell set the NCAA single-season record with 127 three-point field goals as a freshman and then broke her own school and Big Ten mark with 129 this season.
- She has smashed the old OSU record of 270 which was set by Caity Matter from 2001-05.
- Mitchell has made 38.6 percent of her three-point attempts in her career.

FASTEST PLAYER TO 2,000 POINTS

- Kelsey Mitchell became the fastest player in NCAA history (since 1981) to record 2,000 career points.
- Mitchell reached the mark in her 79th career game, besting Jackie Stiles who scored her 2,000th point in 83 games. Stiles is the NCAA's second leading scorer behind Kelsey Plum.
- The Cincinnati, Ohio native was also the fastest player in Big Ten history to 1,000 points as it took her 41 games to score her first 1,000 points.
- Kelly Mazzante of Penn State had been the fastest Big Ten player to 2,000 points as she hit the mark in her 88th game.

JACY SHELDON 2024

ALL-AMERICAN

Jacy Sheldon capped an incredible Buckeye career with All-American honors as a graduate student in 2024. She was named to the AP All-American Second Team, USBWA All-American Third Team and The Sporting News All-American Second Team. She is the sixth player in program history to be named an AP All-American and the seventh to be named a USBWA All-American.

Sheldon etched her name into the record books and is considered one of the most versatile players in program history. She joined Samantha Prahalis and Kelsey Mitchell as one of just three players in program history to total 1,900 points, 400 rebounds, 350 assists, 200 steals and 150 made triples throughout their career.

Sheldon became the eighth in program history to score 2,000 career points on March 22, 2024 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. She reached 1,000 career points on Jan. 20, 2022 as a junior in a ranked win inside Value City Arena. Sheldon led the Buckeyes in scoring in three separate seasons, averaging a career-high 19.7 ppg as a junior during the 2021-22 and wrapping up her career with 17.8 ppg as a grad student. She also led OSU's scoring as a sophomore in 2020-21.

Sheldon led the Buckeyes back to Big Ten excellence and NCAA Tournament runs during her time in the Scarlet & Gray. Ohio State won a share of the Big Ten regular season championship during the 2021-22 season and make it to the NCAA Sweet 16. The Buckeyes followed that by returning to the NCAA Elite Eight for the first time in 30 years in the 2022-23 season. Ohio State earned its first outright Big Ten regular season championship since the 2009-10 season during the 2023-24 year, posting a 16-2 conference record and going unbeaten at home against Big Ten opponents (9-0). The 2023-24 season also fetaured the second-longest Big Ten win streak in program history with 15-consecutive wins against conference oponents.

2023-24 OHIO STATE BUCKEYES
Big Ten Regular Season Champions

The Buckeyes had high expectations for the 2023-24 season after returning to the Elite Eight for the first time in 30 years during the 2023 NCAA Tournament. Returning the majority of the core of that 2023-24 team, Ohio State added former ACC Defensive Player of the Year Celeste Taylor and Michigan State forward Taiyier Parks from the transfer portal to strengthen its defense, rebounding and versatility.

After suffering a season-opening loss to a ranked USC team and falling to a ranked UCLA team and the Wolverines, Ohio State flipped a switch to begin the 2024 calendar year. The Buckeyes rattled off 15-consecutive wins against Big Ten opponents, going undefeated in the months of January and February to boast the program's second-longest Big Ten win streak in program history. The Buckeyes were ranked as high as No. 2 in the AP poll, tying the program's highest ranking of all time. Ohio State claimed its first outright Big Ten regular season title since the 2009-10 season with a 67-51 win against Michigan on Feb. 28, 2024 in front of more than 10,000 fans in Value City Arena.

The Buckeyes fell to Maryland in the Big Ten quarterfinals but were able to earn a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and host first and second round games for the second-straight season.

2021-22 OHIO STATE BUCKEYES
Big Ten Regular Season Champions

The Buckeyes came out of the 2020-21 COVID season with high hopes for the 2021-22 season. Returning all-conference players in Jacy Sheldon and Madison Greene, plus the addition of standout transfer Taylor Mikesell, OSU looked to have one of the strongest and most experienced back courts in the league. Prior to the start of the season, Greene suffered a season-ending injury, leaving the question of who run the point.

Ohio State rolled through the start of the season, taking a 5-1 mark into the Big Ten opener at Purdue and emerging with the win. The Buckeyes' first real test came at home in December against a top-10 Hoosiers team and OSU fell to 1-1 in conference play.

The Buckeyes picked up steam in the new year, earning their first ranked win of the season against No. 12/11 Maryland and starting 2022 with six wins. OSU had some strong basketball still to play, defeating a ranked Iowa team on the road at the end of January and finishing the Big Ten schedule with a 14-4 record and a co-championship with the Hawkeyes.

Ohio State suffered a disappointing loss in the Big Ten semifinals as the top seed before earning a #6 seed in the NCAA Tournament, returning to the big dance for the first time since 2018.

The Buckeyes held off 11-seed Missouri State and used a dominating 40-minute performance at three-seed LSU to advance to the Sweet 16, where the season came to a close by just three points against second-seeded Texas.

2009-10 OHIO STATE BUCKEYES
Big Ten Champions

Ohio State won a record-setting sixth-consecutive Big Ten regular season championship and its 13th overall with a 31-5 overall mark - a school record for wins - and a 15-3 mark in the Big Ten. No team - men's or women's - has ever won six straight Big Ten regular season titles. The Buckeyes also won their second-consecutive Big Ten tournament championship with a 66-64 win over Iowa in the championship game.

The success of the 2009-10 season earned the Buckeyes a No. 2 seed in the NCAA tournament, their eighth straight appearance in the Big Dance and the program's 19th overall. The two-seed was the highest for the Buckeyes since they were a No. 1 seed in the 2006 tournament.

Individually, Jantel Lavender was named to the State Farm/WBCA All-America team for the second straight year and was named the Big Ten player of the year for the third year in a row. Samantha Prahalis was named first team All-Big Ten with Lavender.

Ohio State also won the 2009 Preseason WNIT with a 93-72 win over Oklahoma State.

2008-09 OHIO STATE BUCKEYES

Big Ten Champions

Ohio State turned in a record-setting 2008-09 campaign, winning its record-tying fifth consecutive Big Ten regular season championship with a 15-3 conference mark. The Buckeyes recorded 29 wins, which tied for the third-most in Division I that season. The Buckeyes also won the 2009 Big Ten Tournament championship, its second tournament title in four years.

Sophomore Jantel Lavender earned State Farm/Coaches and USBWA All-America honors, Big Ten player of the year honors for the second-consecutive season and was named the Big Ten tournament's most outstanding player.

Freshman Samantha Prahalis was named Big Ten freshman of the year and was a second team selection by the media and honorable mention by the coaches. She also was named to the Berkeley Regional all-tournament team.

Jim Foster was tabbed as the conference coach of the year by his peers and by a 22-member media panel -- his fourth in the last five years.

Junior Shavelle Little became the second player in conference history to be named defensive player of the year in consecutive seasons while senior Star Allen was named All-Big Ten third team by both the coaches and the media.

The Buckeyes made a school record-tying seventh-consecutive and 18th overall appearance in the NCAA tournament. No. 3 seed Ohio State made its first Sweet 16 appearance since 2005 before bowing out to No. 2 seed and Final Four-bound Stanford.

2007-08 OHIO STATE BUCKEYES
Big Ten Champions

Ohio State claimed its fourth-consecutive Big Ten crown and made its sixth-straight appearance in the NCAA tournament in 2007-08. The Buckeyes finished 22-9 overall and boasted a 13-5 conference mark.

Ohio State was led by sensational freshman Jantel Lavender, who enjoyed the greatest season by a Buckeye freshman since Katie Smith in 1993. Lavender was voted the 2008 Big Ten co-Player of the Year (coaches), becoming the first Big Ten freshman – men or women's – to win player of the year honors. She also was named the Big Ten player of the week a record four times by a freshman. An honorable mention Associated Press All-American, Lavender was the second-leading freshman scorer (17.6 ppg) and third-leading freshman rebounder (9.9 rpg) in the nation and ranked among the Top 3 in the Big Ten in scoring, rebounding and FG percentage (.513).

Sophomore Shavelle Little fought through a knee injury a majority of the season, but still took home Big Ten defensive player of the year honors despite not playing at 100 percent the last two months of the season. She led the Big Ten with 2.7 steals per game.

Senior Marscilla Packer was a second-team All-Big Ten selection while junior Ashlee Trebilcock received honorable mention honors.
